Outside Adelaide, U91 averaged 207.9 c/L against 197.5 c/L in the capital, so regional drivers paid 10.4 c/L more than Adelaide drivers. Outside Adelaide, diesel averaged 245.9 c/L against 233.9 c/L in the capital, so regional drivers paid 12.0 c/L more than Adelaide drivers.

What makes up a litre in Adelaide

Of the 197.5 c/L U91 average in Adelaide, crude oil was 86.0 c/L, wholesale 41.5 c/L, excise 47.6 c/L, GST 18.0 c/L and the retail difference 4.4 c/L. Of the 233.9 c/L diesel average in Adelaide, crude oil was 86.0 c/L, wholesale 75.4 c/L, excise 47.6 c/L, GST 21.3 c/L and the retail difference 3.6 c/L. Premium 95 has no terminal gate price of its own, so its breakdown uses the unleaded price and its premium sits in the retail difference. Our retail records begin on 13 April 2026, so earlier periods show the wholesale side only.

Premium 95 has no terminal gate price of its own. We use the unleaded price, so the premium grade's extra wholesale cost sits in its retail difference, and we give no margin for it.

Retail: FuelRadar station-day averages for Adelaide; our retail records begin on 13 April 2026, so a period before then has the wholesale side only. Last year's average is the previous calendar year. Until we have a full calendar year of retail prices it shows the wholesale side only: the terminal gate price, crude oil and excise. Its GST, retail difference and margin need a retail price, so they are left out. Terminal gate price: AIP, Adelaide terminal, carried over weekends. Crude oil is the US Energy Information Administration Brent spot price (FRED series DCOILBRETEU), converted to Australian cents a litre at each day's exchange rate (FRED series DEXUSAL) and 158.987 litres a barrel, then averaged over the days both are published. Excise: ATO, averaged over the period's days. Wholesale is the terminal gate price without GST and excise, less crude oil. GST is one eleventh of the retail price. The retail difference is what is left: the retailer's costs and margin, without its GST. Bands are rounded so they add up to the retail price.

Month by month

Adelaide's daily U91 average went from 158.2 c/L on 1 July to 232.7 c/L on 30 September, and diesel from 178.5 c/L to 288.5 c/L. Gross indicative retail margins

Adelaide's gross indicative retail margin for U91 (the retail average less the terminal gate price) was 4.9 c/L, up 5.1 c/L on the June quarter 2026, and for diesel 4.0 c/L. By month, the U91 margin was 3.3 c/L in July, 7.9 c/L in August and 3.3 c/L in September.

The gross indicative retail margin is the retail average less the terminal gate price, both with GST. It is before the retailer's own costs (rent, wages, freight to the site, card fees), so it is not profit. The terminal gate price is AIP's price at the Adelaide terminal. AIP publishes terminal gate prices for the capital-city terminals only, so we show no margin for a regional town or city: its fuel may come from a regional terminal, and against the capital's price its margin would include the cost of getting fuel there. The regional towns section gives each town's difference from the state average instead. Weekday prices are carried over weekends and public holidays.

Market trends this year

The Adelaide terminal gate price averaged 192.6 c/L for unleaded and 229.9 c/L for diesel, up 21.3 c/L and up 21.8 c/L on the June quarter 2026. Brent crude averaged US$96.3 a barrel, or 86.0 c/L in Australian dollars, with the Australian dollar at an average of 70.62 US cents.

Retail: FuelRadar daily averages for Adelaide, from 13 April 2026 when our records begin. Terminal gate prices (dashed): AIP, Adelaide terminal, weekdays. Brent crude: US EIA spot price via FRED, converted at each day's exchange rate and 158.987 litres a barrel.

Wholesale prices in the long run

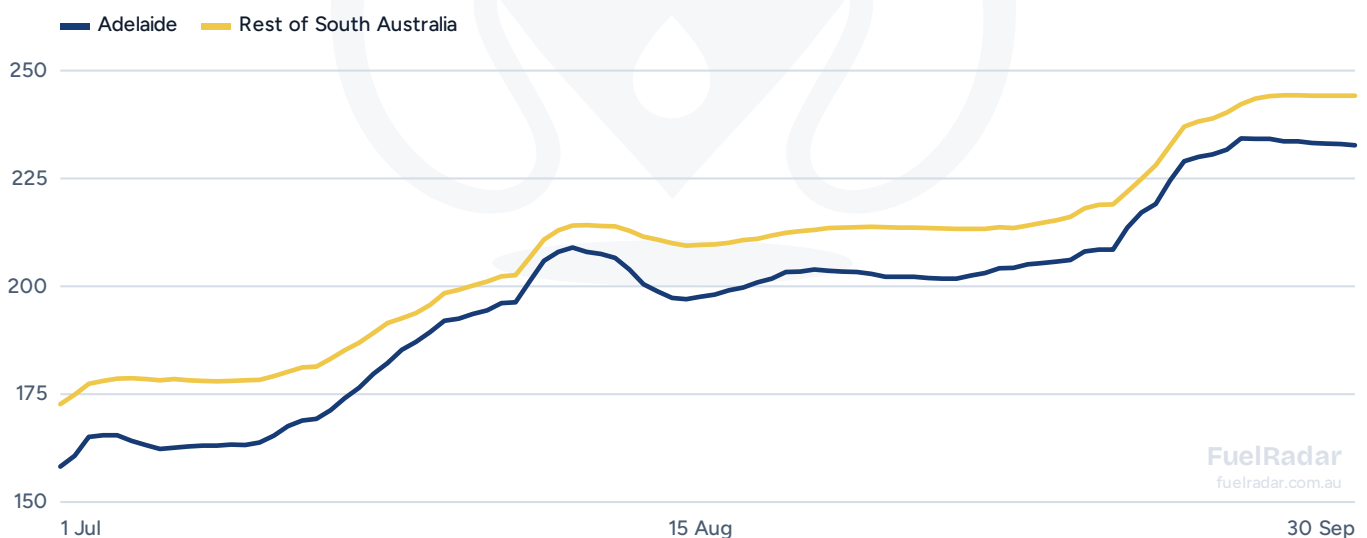

Wholesale unleaded averaged 192.6 c/L at the Adelaide terminal, a record: the dearest wholesale quarter since AIP's series began in March quarter 2004 (the previous high was September quarter 2023 at 183.4 c/L); the cheapest of the last ten years was June quarter 2020 at 93.1 c/L. Wholesale diesel averaged 229.9 c/L at the Adelaide terminal, a record: the dearest wholesale quarter since AIP's series began in March quarter 2004 (the previous high was June quarter 2026 at 221.2 c/L); the cheapest of the last ten years was June quarter 2020 at 100.0 c/L. These are wholesale prices, not what drivers paid at the pump, and nominal prices, not adjusted for inflation.

Terminal gate price	This quarter	Against the series	Previous high	Cheapest in ten years	Rank in ten years
Unleaded	192.6	Record: dearest since AIP's series began in March quarter 2004	September quarter 2023 (183.4)	June quarter 2020 (93.1)	41 of 41
Diesel	229.9	Record: dearest since AIP's series began in March quarter 2004	June quarter 2026 (221.2)	June quarter 2020 (100.0)	41 of 41

Wholesale, not retail: AIP's terminal gate prices at the Adelaide terminal, with GST, the mean of each quarter's calendar days since AIP's series began. These are nominal prices, not adjusted for inflation. "Previous high" is the dearest quarter before this one. Rank 1 is the cheapest quarter of the last ten years, this one included.

The price cycle and excise

No regular price cycle ran in Adelaide in the September quarter 2026: U91 prices followed wholesale costs. Adelaide's three sharp rises in the U91 average came with an excise change and rises in the terminal gate price, so we do not count them as price-cycle hikes.

Sharp rises in Adelaide's U91, not hikes	From	To	Rise	TGP change	Came with
1	16 July	26 July	+21.7	+13.4	Terminal gate price
2	29 July	6 August	+16.5	+14.6	Excise change, 3 August
3	10 September	20 September	+24.5	+16.9	Terminal gate price

How we count a price-cycle hike: Adelaide's daily U91 average less the Adelaide terminal gate price (the indicative margin) rises by at least 8.0 c/L within 5 days, the retail average rises as much, stations making up at least 25% of Adelaide's raise their price by 5.0 c/L or more in a day, and the margin then eases back by half within 21 days. A rise within 3 days of an excise change, or one the terminal gate price explains, is not a hike. With no hike, no regular price cycle ran and prices followed wholesale costs.

Fuel excise

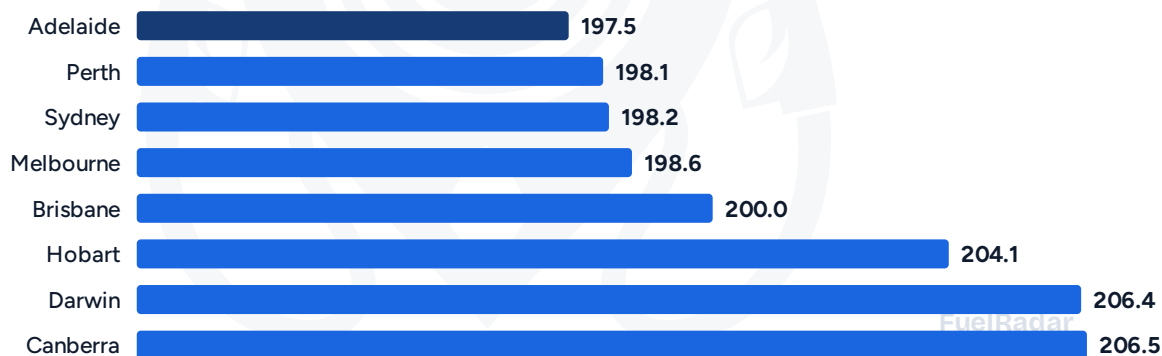

Fuel excise on petrol and diesel changed from 20.6 c/L to 36.6 c/L on 1 July 2026 and from 36.6 c/L to 53.7 c/L on 3 August 2026. Over the period it averaged 47.6 c/L a litre, before GST.

Petrol and diesel excise	Rate (c/L, before GST)	Change
In force on 1 July 2026	36.6
From 1 July 2026 (Partial restoration; still a temporarily reduced rate, 1 July to 2 August 2026)	36.6	+16.0
From 3 August 2026 (Full rate restored, indexed by the CPI factor of 1.020)	53.7	+17.1
Average over the days of 1 July to 30 September 2026	47.6

Excise is charged on fuel as it leaves the terminal, so it is already in the terminal gate price; GST is then charged on top.

The capital cities

Adelaide ranked the cheapest of the 8 capital cities for U91; Adelaide was the cheapest at 197.5 c/L and Canberra the dearest at 206.5 c/L. Adelaide ranked the cheapest of the 8 capital cities for diesel; Adelaide was the cheapest at 233.9 c/L and Canberra the dearest at 248.2 c/L.

Each capital is its ABS urban area, worked out exactly as in its own state's report. The margin is against its own terminal's gate price (Canberra uses Sydney's). Green is the cheapest capital and red the dearest. Regional vs capital is the rest of the state's average less its capital's: a positive figure is what regional drivers paid more. Cycle hikes are the price-cycle hikes we counted in the capital in the period (our rule is in the price cycle section); a dash means we had no terminal gate price to read it against.

Adelaide by area

Inside Adelaide, Adelaide North was the cheapest area for U91 at 196.5 c/L and Adelaide – Central and Hills the dearest at 199.3 c/L, a spread of 2.8 c/L.

Areas are the ABS Statistical Areas Level 4 (SA4, 2021) inside Adelaide's urban area, named in plain words ("Brisbane - East" is Brisbane East). An area counts its stations that reported on at least a quarter of the days; its average, station count and cheapest station all come from them, so the cheapest station never averages more than its area.

Regional towns

The cheapest U91 outside Adelaide was in Barmera, at 195.0 c/L, 2.5 c/L below Adelaide. Nullarbor (rural) was the dearest at 288.4 c/L, 90.9 c/L above Adelaide. 1 of the 59 towns we ranked averaged less than Adelaide for U91. Barmera was the cheapest regional town for diesel at 233.0 c/L and Nullarbor (rural) the dearest at 315.8 c/L, a spread of 82.8 c/L.

A town is the ABS urban centre or locality a station is in, so a regional city and its suburbs are one town (a large city marked "city" is the city's own outline). A station outside every town, such as a highway roadhouse, counts in its ABS locality, marked "(rural)". A town is ranked with at least 2 stations that reported on a quarter of the days and a price on 60% of the days. "vs state" is the town's average less the South Australia average. Every ranked town is in the appendix.

Mount Gambier was the cheapest of the 10 regional centres we ranked for U91 at 197.8 c/L, and Whyalla the dearest at 210.0 c/L. 0 of them averaged less than Adelaide.

A regional centre is a large regional city we map on its own, or an ABS urban centre of 10,000 people or more (2021 Census) outside Adelaide. It is ranked by the town rule. Cents a litre; vs Adelaide and change are differences of the published averages.

Brent: Europe Brent spot price FOB (US Energy Information Administration). Exchange rate: the Federal Reserve's noon buying rate in New York. Both via FRED, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, averaged over the days each is published; the Australian-dollar figures use each day's rate. A litre is a barrel ÷ 158.987. We use these free benchmarks because the refined-petrol and diesel benchmarks Australian wholesale prices follow (Singapore) are sold by subscription.

Outlook

An estimate, not a guarantee. Our outlook describes the days after the period ended. Prices can move quickly; check the live price at the station before you fill.

We give our outlook only in the days after a period ends, when it still describes the days ahead. See today's forecast for your area in the FuelRadar app or at fuelradar.com.au/fuel-price-reports/sa/2026-q3.

The station-day average

Each day, every service station counts once at its latest price as of the end of that day, in the state's own time. A price is carried forward for at most 30 days, and each average is taken over every station-day in the period. Prices held for checking, prices a station reported as unavailable and implausible prices are left out (we count U91 between 100.0 and 450.0 c/L).

Places

Adelaide is its ABS urban area, split into ABS SA4 areas. Outside it, a town is the ABS locality a station sits in. A town or area counts its stations that report on at least a quarter of the days and is ranked with at least 2 of them and a price on 60% of the days.

Wholesale, margins and the cost of a litre

The terminal gate price is AIP's weekday price at the nearest terminal: the Adelaide terminal. AIP publishes the capital-city terminals only. Weekday prices are carried over weekends, and a period's price is the mean of its calendar days. The margin is the retail average less the terminal gate price. Crude oil is the US Energy Information Administration Brent spot price (FRED series DCOILBRENTU), converted to Australian cents a litre at each day's exchange rate (FRED series DEXUSAL) and 158.987 litres a barrel, then averaged over the days both are published. In the cost of a litre, wholesale is the terminal gate price without GST and excise less crude oil, excise is the ATO rate averaged over the days, GST is one eleventh of the retail price, and the retail difference is the rest. Last year's average is the previous calendar year. Until we have a full calendar year of retail prices it shows the wholesale side only: the terminal gate price, crude oil and excise. Its GST, retail difference and margin need a retail price, so they are left out.

About these prices

These are averages over the whole period, not today's prices. Check the station price and its update time before you fill. The full report, with every town linked to its live prices, is at fuelradar.com.au/fuel-price-reports/sa/2026-q3.

A suburb or town is the ABS locality a station sits in, ranked within its ABS Statistical Area Level 4 by the town rule. A town outside Adelaide is one of this report's towns (outside Adelaide's urban area) in that SA4.

The day of the week to buy

In the September quarter 2026, Sunday was the cheapest day to buy U91 in Adelaide and Saturday the dearest, 0.6 c/L apart on average; since our records began on 13 April 2026, Wednesday has been the cheapest.

U91	Cheapest day	Dearest day	Apart	60 litres	Since records began	Apart
Adelaide	Sunday	Saturday	0.6	$0.36	Wednesday / Saturday	0.8
Gawler	Wednesday	Monday	0.7	$0.42	Thursday / Saturday	0.6
Mount Barker	Sunday	Tuesday	0.8	$0.48	Wednesday / Tuesday	0.6
Mount Gambier	Sunday	Friday	0.7	$0.42	Monday / Tuesday	0.2
Whyalla	Monday	Saturday	0.5	$0.30	Monday / Saturday	0.4
Crafers–Bridgewater	Monday	Thursday	0.5	$0.30	Wednesday / Saturday	0.9
Murray Bridge	Sunday	Friday	0.5	$0.30	Tuesday / Saturday	0.3
Port Augusta	Monday	Saturday	0.5	$0.30	Monday / Saturday	0.3
Port Lincoln	Monday	Thursday	0.5	$0.30	Wednesday / Saturday	0.4
Port Pirie	Monday	Thursday	0.7	$0.42	Monday / Saturday	0.6
Victor Harbor	Wednesday	Monday	0.7	$0.42	Wednesday / Monday	0.3

Each day's average against the seven days centred on it, averaged by weekday, so a steady rise or fall over the period does not favour one end of the week. A place needs four of each weekday with prices from 5 stations or more; a month usually has too few, so it shows the year so far only.

About FuelRadar and this report

About FuelRadar

FuelRadar shows the prices service stations report across Australia, so drivers can find cheaper fuel near them, on a trip and over time. Our regional fuel price reports are free to read and to quote at fuelradar.com.au/fuel-price-reports.

How we collect the prices

Service stations report their prices to their state or territory government, which publishes them as open price feeds (named in the sources list). We read every station in those feeds, every day, and keep every price change.

The method in brief

Each day, every station counts once at its latest price as of the end of that day, carried forward at most 30 days. An average is taken over every station-day in the period, so busy and quiet stations count the same each day. Towns and areas are ABS outlines; a town is ranked only with enough steady stations. The full method is in the report's method section and at fuelradar.com.au/fuel-price-reports/sa/2026-q3.
